

Equipment

Virus Power suits, innovation gets on track

The tuscan factory's suits are manufactured with a revolutionary eco-friendly material made from high-tech textile fibers which guarantee safety and comfort.

Virus Power suits guarantee maximum safety and comfort, thanks to the innovative eco-friendly material from which they are manufactured, composed of high-tech textile fibers.

The patent belongs to Manifattura Primatex srl, company from Prato, leader in the safety sector specialized in the research and development of technical textiles for safety workwear and footwear. Virus Power was born from here, from the use of over 20 years of experience in the field of safety applied to the motorcycling sector.

Virus Power suits represent a true technological innovation, certified in triple A according to the FprEN 17092:2019 regulation, reaching levels of safety never touched before by similar garments.

High-tech 'Multiprotective' textile fibers guarantee breathability and lightness: the suits are waterproof, machine washable and fully printable and therefore customizable.

The project is completely based on the maximum respect for the environment, the suits and any other Virus Power garment are manufactured with recyclable materials and in total absence of components of animal origin.

“ Virus Power allow us to respect life without giving up safety – says the owner Christian Priami, of Virus Power, - an ambitious and important project, founded on technology and research, with the aim to guarantee safety and high performance for those who wear Virus Power products, but which, at the same time, cannot ignore its environmental impact”

“Excellence can only be achieved by keeping faith on what you believe in – continues Christian Priami – after the extraordinary debut of last year, we are impatient for the start of the new championship season, which will reconfirm our presence on the circuits, thanks to the renewed confidence in us by the Italian Motorcycling Federation, but we also have another ambitious goal for 2021: entering the market with very urban clothing. Jackets and gloves will be available soon.”

Equipment
Virus Power suits, innovation gets on track